István Lénárt

His sphere is on permanent display at the Palace of Miracles at the Budapest Museum of Science where he lectures on Non-Euclidean Geometry

Lénárt Sphere Workshop

The Lénárt Sphere is the result of research begun in 1969 by Hungarian mathematics educator István Lénárt. The Lénárt Sphere was developed into a global product by Key Curriculum Press following the 7th International Congress on Mathematical Education in 1992.

István Lénárt will be visiting Australia as a guest of Objective Learning Materials (Australian agents for Key Curriculum Press). He will be demonstrating the Lénárt Sphere to teachers at the Annual Conference of the Mathematical Association of Victoria at La Trobe University December 3rd and 4th 2009

Half day workshops

István Lénárt will run half day workshops on classroom applications of the Lénárt Sphere in:

Brisbane November 27th 2009
Sydney November 30th 2009
Melbourne December 2nd 2009

The cost of these sessions will be $350.00 per person which includes a Lénárt Sphere basic set per participant ($165.00 value)
